I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Burkina Faso. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish. What educational path would you recommend for me?

That's a great starting point! Since you've just finished primary school in Denmark and are fluent in Danish, you have several solid options depending on your interests and goals. Here are some typical educational paths in Denmark after primary school (which I assume means 9th or 10th grade):

1. Gymnasium (STX)

- This is a three-year general upper secondary education.
- It prepares you for higher education (university).
- Focuses on broad subjects: sciences, languages, social sciences, and arts.
- Good if you want to keep your options open for university later on.

2. Higher Technical Examination Programme (HTX)

- Also three years, but more focused on technical and scientific subjects.
- Good if you like things like engineering, technology, IT, or natural sciences.

3. Higher Commercial Examination Programme (HHX)

- Three-year business-oriented education.
- Focus on economics, marketing, business law.
- Great if you're interested in business, trade, or entrepreneurship.

4. Vocational Education and Training (EUD)

- Combines practical training with schooling.
- Usually 2-4 years, depending on the trade.
- Focused on specific trades like electrician, chef, mechanic, etc.
- Leads directly to skilled jobs but also allows further education later.

How to choose?

- What interests you? Science? Technology? Business? Arts? Or do you prefer practical work?
- Do you want to go to university eventually? Then gymnasium, HTX, or HHX are good.

- Do you want to start working sooner with a practical skill? Vocational education could be a great choice.

Bonus:

Since your parents are from Burkina Faso, if you're interested in languages or international relations, maybe learning more about French or international studies could be interesting — especially since Burkina Faso is francophone.
