

Uddannelsesmuligheder i Danmark

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Brunei Darussalam. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thank you for sharing a bit about yourself — that gives great context for guidance! Since you're 16, finished primary school (in Denmark, that would usually mean you've completed folkeskole or equivalent), and you're now at a crossroads, let's break down your options thoughtfully.

1 Understand your options in Denmark's education system

After folkeskole, students in Denmark typically choose between:

- Gymnasiale uddannelser (Upper secondary education) – academically oriented, preparing for higher education (e.g. university).
 - STX (studentereksamen) – general upper secondary, broad subjects.
 - HHX – focus on business and economics.
 - HTX – focus on science and technology.
 - HF – shorter, often for adults or those who want a faster path to higher education.
- Erhvervsuddannelser (Vocational education and training / VET) – combining school with apprenticeship/workplace training, leading to direct job qualifications or further study.
- Other specialized or international programs – e.g. International Baccalaureate (IB), if you want a more global qualification.

2 Reflect on your interests and strengths

✓ Do you enjoy academic study and want to aim for university? → STX, HHX, HTX, or IB could suit you.

✓ Do you prefer hands-on learning, practical skills, and maybe earning while you learn? → VET / erhvervsuddannelse might be a great fit.

✓ Do you have specific passions (e.g. business, science, creative arts, IT, design)? → That can guide you toward HHX, HTX, or specialized programs.

3 Consider long-term goals

- Do you see yourself studying at a university in Denmark, Brunei, or another country? (If international study is appealing, IB or STX could give flexibility.)
- Do you want to work sooner, maybe in a skilled trade, IT, hospitality, design, or another area? VET could fast-track you into employment.

- Are you drawn to entrepreneurship, engineering, health sciences, or creative fields? The right gymnasium type can align with that.

Other factors

 Your multicultural background – You might have unique language skills, cultural insights, or connections that could be valuable in international business, diplomacy, tourism, or global organizations.

 Your Danish fluency – That opens up all Danish programs, but you could also consider adding more English (e.g. IB) if you see yourself working or studying internationally.

My recommendation

Since you're still exploring your direction:

- ➔ Visit open house events at local gymnasiums and VET schools — see what feels inspiring.
- ➔ Talk to a guidance counselor (studievejleder) — they can help match your interests with a program.
- ➔ Consider STX or HTX if you like a broad academic foundation, or HHX if business appeals. VET if you want more practical learning.
- ➔ IB if you're excited by an international path and strong in English.

If you'd like, tell me more about:

- Whether you prefer theoretical or practical learning
- Any career ideas you already have

Then I can help narrow down a recommendation! 😊
