

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Monaco. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thanks for sharing that—it's a great moment to be thinking seriously about your future. Since you're 16, have finished primary school in Denmark, and you're fluent in Danish, you have several solid options available depending on your interests, strengths, and goals.

First, here's how the Danish education system typically works post-primary school:

After folkeskole (primary and lower secondary school), you generally choose between:

1. General Upper Secondary Education (Gymnasiale uddannelser)

This path is ideal if you're academically inclined and may want to attend university later.

- STX (Studentereksamen) – Broadest academically. Ideal if you're unsure what to study later or are interested in humanities, social sciences, or sciences.
- HHX (Higher Commercial Examination Programme) – Focus on business, economics, and international studies.
- HTX (Higher Technical Examination Programme) – Focus on technology, IT, and science.
- HF (Higher Preparatory Examination Programme) – Shorter (2 years). More practical and often for students who want to go to university but need more flexible access.

Good fit if: You want to keep options open, are curious, and enjoy schoolwork.

2. Vocational Education and Training (EUD / Erhvervsuddannelse)

Focuses on learning a trade or profession. Includes an apprenticeship (praktikplads) in a company.

Examples:

- Electrician
- Carpenter
- Chef
- Healthcare assistant
- IT support

Good fit if: You like hands-on work, want to start working earlier, or want a practical job without years of university.

You can also combine vocational education with general upper secondary (e.g. EUX), which gives you both a trade and the option to study at university later.

3. International or Alternative Options

Given your Monaco background and international ties, maybe you're open to:

- International Baccalaureate (IB) – An internationally recognized diploma taught in English. Often a strong choice if you're thinking about studying abroad.
- Private schools or boarding schools (efterskole or kostskole) – Some offer special focuses like arts, sports, or international outlook.

Key Questions to Consider:

- Do you enjoy academic subjects (math, languages, sciences)? → Consider STX, IB, or HF.
- Are you more practical and like to work with your hands? → Look at EUD or EUX.
- Interested in business or economics? → HHX or maybe IB with business subjects.
- Thinking about university in Denmark or abroad? → STX or IB are safest bets.

Recommendation:

Since you're fluent in Danish, born in Denmark, and have international roots, here's a balanced suggestion:

Consider the IB programme or STX if you enjoy school and want university options later. Pair it with subjects you find exciting (e.g., languages, economics, biology, etc.).

If you prefer something hands-on or want a faster path to a career, look into EUX—it's a great combo of vocational training + academic options.

Would you like help figuring out what subjects you enjoy most, or a quiz-like guide to narrow this down further?
