

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Mozambique. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.
What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thanks for sharing your background — that helps a lot! Since you're 16 and just finished primary school (in Denmark, that usually means you're done with folkeskolen after 9th or 10th grade), you're now at a key decision point. Here's a breakdown of your main options in Denmark, along with some advice based on your situation.

🎓 Your Main Options After Primary School in Denmark

1. Gymnasium (STX, HHX, HTX, HF) – General Upper Secondary Education

These are 2-3 year programs that prepare you for university. They are academic and theory-based.

- STX (Almen studentereksamen): Broad general education with focus on humanities, sciences, and social studies.
- HHX (Højere handelseksamen): Focus on business, economics, and international studies.
- HTX (Højere teknisk eksamen): Focus on technology, science, and innovation.
- HF (Højere forberedelseseksamen): A 2-year program, more practical and flexible, for students who may want a shorter or more applied path to higher education.

🟢 Best for you if: You enjoy studying, want to go to university later, and have strong interest in specific subjects like science, languages, or business.

2. EUD/Erhvervsuddannelser – Vocational Education and Training

This is for students who want to learn a trade and start working earlier. You combine school and apprenticeship (praktik) in a company.

- Examples: Electrician, carpenter, social and health care assistant (SOSU), chef, graphic designer, mechanic.
- You can also take EUX, which combines vocational training with subjects from gymnasium – so you can still go to university later if you want.

🟢 Best for you if: You like learning by doing, want a faster way into the job market, or enjoy more hands-on and practical work.

🕒 How to Decide?

Here are some questions you can ask yourself to guide your decision:

- Do I enjoy reading, writing, and theory — or do I prefer doing, creating, or fixing things?
 - Am I interested in going to university one day — or would I rather start working earlier?
 - What subjects or activities make me feel motivated?
 - Do I want to try something new — like moving to another part of Denmark for school, or exploring international opportunities later?

Personalized Advice for You

Given that:

- You're fluent in Danish and finished primary school in Denmark
- You have cultural roots in Mozambique (maybe multilingual and adaptable)
- You're considering your first major educational choice

Here's a balanced suggestion:

◆ If you're unsure but want to keep many doors open:

Consider going to a Gymnasium (STX or HHX). It gives you a strong general education and time to figure out your interests. HHX could be great if you're curious about business, global economics, or international opportunities (especially interesting with your Mozambican background).

◆ If you prefer a more practical path:

EUD with EUX could be a strong choice. It combines job skills and the option to pursue higher education later. For example, you could train in IT, media, healthcare, or technology.

Next Steps

1. Visit educational fairs or open houses (uddannelsesmesser) near you.
 2. Talk to a guidance counselor (studievejleder) at your school or kommune — they can help match your strengths and interests to a path.
 3. Try a "brobygning" program – a short internship/intro week where you test out a gymnasium or vocational school before deciding.
