

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Iraq. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

That's a great question — and it's awesome that you're thinking seriously about your future. Since you've just finished primary school (which in Denmark typically ends after 9th or 10th grade), you're now at a key decision point. In Denmark, you generally have three main educational paths to choose from after primary school:

1. Gymnasial uddannelse (General Upper Secondary Education)

These programs prepare you for university:

- STX (Studentereksamen) – Focus on general education like languages, science, and humanities.
- HHX (Higher Commercial Examination Programme) – Focus on business, economics, and international trade.
- HTX (Higher Technical Examination Programme) – Focus on technology and science.
- HF (Higher Preparatory Examination) – A shorter, more flexible 2-year program often used by students who want to go to university but need a more practical approach.

Good if:

You enjoy academic subjects and are interested in possibly going to university later (e.g., to study medicine, law, engineering, business, etc.).

2. Erhvervsuddannelse (Vocational Education and Training – EUD)

This is a mix of school and paid work (apprenticeship). You train for a specific job — for example:

- Electrician
- Carpenter
- Hairdresser
- Mechanic
- Social and health care assistant

Good if:

You like hands-on work, want to earn money while learning, and are eager to start a career without going to university.

3. Kombinerede forløb (Combination Programs)

- EUX – Combines vocational training (EUD) with academic classes, so you can get both a professional qualification and university entrance qualification.
- It's a good choice if you're not sure whether you want to go to university later, but also want a profession to fall back on.

Good if:

You want the flexibility of both practical skills and the option to go to university.

Some personal advice, based on your background and goals:

- You're fluent in Danish, which gives you full access to all educational options.
 - If your parents didn't grow up in the Danish school system, you might want to seek extra advice from your school counselor or "UU-vejleder" to help you navigate the system.
 - If you're unsure of your career interests, consider doing internships (praktik) or short "intro-forløb" in different programs to explore.
 - Think about your strengths: Are you more academic, more practical, or a mix?
-

Final Thoughts:

Here's a way to choose:

- If you like school, studying, and want to go to university → choose STX, HHX, HTX, or HF.
- If you prefer doing things with your hands and want to work soon → go for EUD.
- If you want both options → look into EUX.

Would you like me to help you match specific interests (like tech, health, business, art, etc.) with the right program?