

Uddannelsesmuligheder efter folkeskolen

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Belgium. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

That's a really thoughtful question, and it's great that you're already reflecting on your educational path! Since you're 16, have completed primary/lower secondary school in Denmark, and are fluent in Danish, let's break down your options based on the Danish education system and your unique background.

Main educational options after primary school in Denmark

At this stage, you typically choose between two broad types of upper secondary education:

General upper secondary education (gymnasial uddannelse)

These are aimed at preparing you for higher education at universities or colleges.

- STX (Almen studentereksamen): The most common, broad, and academic program.
- HHX (Højere handelseksamen): Focus on business, economics, and international studies.
- HTX (Højere teknisk eksamen): Focus on technology, science, and technical subjects.
- HF (Højere forberedelseksamen): A 2-year program, often for students who want a more practical academic path or for those who prefer a shorter route.

 Good if you want to go to university or aren't sure yet.

Vocational education and training (erhvervsuddannelse)

These programs combine school learning and apprenticeships in companies.

- Focus on practical skills for a specific trade or profession (e.g., electrician, carpenter, chef, health care worker).
- Can also lead to further education (e.g., erhvervsakademi or professional bachelor degrees).

 Good if you like hands-on work or know the job sector you want.

Factors to consider

- Your interests: Do you prefer academic studies, practical work, or a combination?
- Future plans: Do you want to go to university, start working sooner, or explore international opportunities (e.g., in Belgium)?

- Strengths: What subjects excite you or where do you feel strongest?
- Language advantage: With your Belgian background, you might also consider programs with French, Dutch, or German language options, or international programs.

Special ideas given your background

✓ Consider IB (International Baccalaureate)

If your school offers IB, it could be a great fit since you have an international family background. It keeps doors open both in Denmark and abroad (including Belgium).

✓ Explore HHX if you're interested in business or international trade

Your ties to Belgium could make an international business-oriented education appealing.

✓ Look into STX with strong language or social science tracks

If you enjoy languages, history, or politics, STX can give you a wide academic foundation.

My recommendation

If you're unsure what you want long-term:

👉 STX is a safe and flexible choice.

👉 Consider IB if you're drawn to an international path.

👉 If you know you want to work with tech or business, HTX or HHX could be a better match.

If you'd like, I can help you:

- Explore schools near you offering these programs
- Compare subject tracks
- Plan for university or job options after upper secondary

Would you like me to help with that? And do you already have a sense of what subjects you enjoy most?
