

Uddannelsesvalg efter folkeskole

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Cuba. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

That's a really thoughtful question — it's great that you're reflecting carefully on your next steps! Let's break it down so I can give you some useful guidance.

Understanding your options

Since you've just completed primary school (or perhaps folkeskole, if you mean 9th/10th grade in Denmark), you have several main pathways to choose from:

Gymnasiale uddannelser (General upper secondary education)

These programs prepare you for higher education (university, etc.). They include:

- STX (studentereksamen) – broad, academically oriented (humanities, sciences, social sciences)
- HHX (higher commercial exam) – focus on business, economics, international trade
- HTX (higher technical exam) – focus on technology, science, IT
- HF (higher preparatory exam) – shorter, often for those who want more flexibility

Erhvervsuddannelser (Vocational education and training)

These combine school and apprenticeship (praktik). You learn a trade and can work directly after, or continue to higher education. Examples: electrician, chef, media graphics, childcare, etc.

Kombinerede veje

You can also choose EUX — a combination where you get both a vocational qualification and a general upper secondary certificate.

How to choose?

Since I don't know your personal interests yet, here are some questions to help you reflect:

- Do you enjoy academic subjects like languages, history, science, math?
- Are you more practical — do you like working with your hands, creating things, solving real-world problems?
- Are you interested in business, technology, or creative fields?
- Do you want to go to university eventually?
- How do you learn best — in classrooms, or through doing and experiencing?

My general recommendation

Since you are fluent in Danish, have Cuban roots, and are probably bilingual or bicultural:

- If you like academics + want university later: STX or HHX could be great — STX if you want broad subjects, HHX if you're curious about business or international trade (might also connect well with your background and language skills).
- If you prefer practical learning: A vocational education (EUD) or EUX (if you want both hands-on training and the option for university later) can open doors faster to the job market.
- If you're unsure: Consider a 10th grade program (10. klasse) or an introductory year at a gymnasium or vocational school to explore different subjects.

Extra thoughts

With your Cuban background, maybe think about:

- International studies, languages, culture, or trade — you could be a bridge between cultures.
- Business, tourism, hospitality — areas where speaking multiple languages is valuable.
- Technology or design — Denmark has strong programs in these areas, especially at HTX or via EUX.

Next step:

I'd be happy to help more if you tell me:

-  What subjects do you enjoy most?
-  Do you want to go to university later?
-  Do you already have ideas about jobs or fields that interest you?

Let me know — and I can give you a more tailored suggestion!
