

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Madagascar. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.
What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thanks for sharing a bit about yourself! Since you've just finished primary school in Denmark (so likely 9th or 10th grade), your next step depends on your interests, goals, and whether you're leaning more toward practical work, academic studies, or something in between. Here's a breakdown of the main options in Denmark after primary school, with recommendations depending on your interests:

1. Gymnasiale uddannelser (Upper Secondary Education)

These are more academically focused and prepare you for university. You typically choose this path if you're interested in higher education later.

Options:

- STX (Alment gymnasium) – General upper secondary school with a broad range of subjects (science, language, humanities).
- HHX (Handelsgymnasium) – Focus on business, economics, and international relations.
- HTX (Teknisk gymnasium) – Focus on technology, science, and innovation.
- HF (Højere forberedelseseksamen) – A shorter, more flexible 2-year program, often for those who want to go to university but don't want a full 3-year gymnasium.

 Recommended if: You're interested in going to university or exploring academic subjects more deeply.

2. Erhvervsuddannelse (Vocational Education and Training – EUD)

This is a more hands-on, job-oriented path that prepares you for a specific career like electrician, carpenter, chef, child care worker, etc.

You start with a basic course (grundforløb) and then often do an apprenticeship (praktik).

 Recommended if: You want to learn a trade and start working earlier, possibly even with strong job prospects.

3. Kombineret Forløb – EUX

This combines vocational training with academic classes. You get both a vocational qualification and a gymnasium-level diploma, so you can both work and study further (e.g., university or a professional academy).

 Recommended if: You want flexibility – both job-readiness and the option to study later.

Considering Your Background

As someone with Malagasy heritage, you might also consider:

- Language and cultural studies if you're interested in connecting with your roots or working internationally.
- Global studies, international business, or development fields – Denmark values multicultural skills.

Personal Advice:

To recommend something more concrete, ask yourself:

- Do I want to go to university someday?
- Do I like working with my hands or solving practical problems?
- Am I more motivated by academic learning or real-world skills?
- What subjects excite me the most?

If you're unsure, it's okay to take time to figure things out. You could even:

- Talk to an educational advisor (studievejleder) at your school or local kommune.
- Try a “brobygning” (bridging course) where you test out gymnasium or vocational programs before committing.

If you tell me a bit more about your interests (subjects you like, dream job ideas, things you're good at or enjoy), I can give a more personalized suggestion!
