

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Mexico. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish.

What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thanks for sharing your background — that's really helpful context.

Since you've just finished primary school in Denmark (usually after 9th or 10th grade, depending on your track), you're at a key point in your educational journey. In Denmark, you now have several main options to consider, depending on your interests, learning style, and long-term goals. Here's a breakdown of the most common paths, along with advice tailored to your situation:

1. Gymnasiale uddannelser (Upper Secondary Education)

These are academically focused and prepare you for university. There are several types:

STX (Almen studentereksamen)

- Broadest academic program (sciences, humanities, social sciences).
- Good if you're unsure but want to keep university options open.
- Usually 3 years.

HHX (Højere handelseksamen)

- Focus on business, economics, and languages.
- Great if you're interested in entrepreneurship, international trade, or working in companies.
- Also 3 years.

HTX (Højere teknisk eksamen)

- Focus on technology, natural sciences, and innovation.
- Ideal if you're into engineering, IT, science, or design.

HF (Højere forberedelseksamen)

- 2-year program, more practical than STX but still prepares for university.
- Often used by students who want to move a bit quicker into further education or have a more mature/independent learning style.

Best if: You enjoy academic learning, want to keep university as an option, and don't mind a few more years in school.

2. Erhvervsuddannelse (VET – Vocational Education and Training)

These prepare you directly for a job or career (e.g., electrician, chef, hairdresser, mechanic). You combine school with apprenticeships.

- Usually 2–5 years depending on the field.
- Often starts with a Grundforløb (basic course) at a vocational school.
- Good job prospects and opportunities to continue into further education (like EUX, which mixes VET with academics).

Best if: You enjoy hands-on learning, want to start working sooner, or know a specific trade or career you're interested in.

Considerations for you specifically:

- Bilingualism and Cultural Background: Your Danish-Mexican background and language skills could open doors in international fields, such as business, translation, diplomacy, or tourism.
- Do you want to go to university later? Choose STX, HHX, or HTX.
- Do you want to work sooner and like practical tasks? Go for VET or EUX.
- Are you unsure? STX keeps most doors open.

Some Questions to Reflect On:

1. What subjects do you enjoy most?
2. Do you like school and academic learning, or do you prefer more hands-on/practical work?
3. Do you already have a dream job or field you're curious about?
4. Are you interested in studying abroad one day (e.g., Mexico or another country)?
5. Would you consider working in business, technology, healthcare, or creative fields?

If you want, I can help you narrow it down further based on your interests — just tell me what you enjoy doing or subjects you're best at.
