

Uddannelsesvalg efter folkeskole

I'm a 16 year old person living in Denmark. I'm born in Denmark, but my parents are from Thailand. I just finished primary school in Denmark and am now considering what my next step should be. I'm fluent in danish. What educational path would you recommend for me?

Thanks for sharing that — it's great that you're thinking ahead. In Denmark, after completing primary school (folkeskole), you have a few solid options depending on your interests, goals, and how you like to learn. Here's a breakdown of the main educational paths available to you:

1. Gymnasiale uddannelser (Upper Secondary Education)

These are academic programs that prepare you for university. If you enjoy learning in a classroom and want to keep your options open for higher education, this is likely the best path.

Options include:

- STX (Studentereksamen): Broad general education, includes science, humanities, and social sciences.
- HHX (Højere Handelseksamen): Focuses on business, economics, and international affairs.
- HTX (Højere Teknisk Eksamen): More technical and science-oriented (good if you like tech or engineering).
- HF (Højere Forberedelseksamen): A 2-year alternative that's more flexible, often for slightly older students or those wanting a shorter academic path.

 Best if: You're thinking about university, or not sure what you want to do yet but want to keep many options open.

2. Erhvervsuddannelser (Vocational Education and Training - EUD)

These are more practical, hands-on paths where you also work as an apprentice in a company. You can become anything from a carpenter or electrician to a hairdresser or office assistant.

There's also:

- EUX – combines vocational training with academic subjects, so you can still go to university later if you change your mind.

 Best if: You prefer learning by doing and want to start working sooner (while still having future flexibility with EUX).

3. International or Bilingual Programs

Given your Thai background and fluency in Danish, you might consider:

- International Baccalaureate (IB): An internationally recognized high school program taught in English.
- A bilingual or international line at a gymnasium near you (some Danish gymnasiums offer special lines with more English or global subjects).

🌐 Best if: You're interested in global opportunities or might want to study/work abroad someday.

What to Consider

Here are a few questions to help you narrow things down:

- Do you enjoy more academic subjects, or do you prefer practical work?
- Do you want to go to university, or do you want to start working sooner?
- Are you more interested in business, science, technology, languages, or something else?
- How do you like to learn — through books, discussions, or doing things hands-on?

My Advice Based on Your Background

Since you're fluent in Danish, grew up in Denmark, and have just finished primary school, a gymnasium program (like STX or HHX) could be a great next step. It keeps the door open to university, gives you time to figure out your passion, and helps you build on your strong Danish and multicultural background.

If you're more hands-on or already have a clear interest in a trade, then EUD or EUX might be a smart move too — especially if you want a quicker path to a career but still want educational options later.

If you want, I can help you:

- Find local schools near you with specific programs (like HHX or IB).
- Explore careers based on what you enjoy doing.
- Compare STX, HHX, HTX, HF, and EUX in more detail.

Would you like help with any of that?
